1. On 11 May I telephoned [REDACTED] to inquire as to the status of the Retirement History (I was in training duty during the preceding week). [REDACTED] told me that there had been considerable discussion between [REDACTED] concerning the terminal date to be covered by the current Retirement History project. Apparently [REDACTED] feels that the history should be completed to cover material beyond that which [REDACTED] has presented.

2. [REDACTED] stated quite clearly that from the point of view of the Historical Staff [REDACTED] terminal date is quite appropriate. The Staff sees no reason to extend this project further. However, if D/Pers should desire to do so, [REDACTED] suggests the addition of a short paragraph or two covering the highlights of the subsequent period and stating that details will be covered in subsequent updating action.

3. I later telephoned C/RAD [REDACTED] and passed on to him [REDACTED] suggestion.
